

The new European GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) effective on 25th May 2018 requires organisations to use and manage personal data properly and securely. FORCE receives information pertaining to membership, and contact details from those who wish to receive updates from us. FORCE will not pass any personal details to any other person or organisation. We ensure that individuals cannot be identified when we report to outside bodies such as funders, project partners, the Charity Commission, or to the AGM. We will always do our best to seek permission before we use photographs of identifiable people.
